Know Your Compliance Obligations. Minimize Your Risk.

Employers that sponsor employee benefit plans have legal compliance obligations under various federal laws and regulations. Don’t be caught unaware. Reduce your risk and preserve your employee resources with an automated compliance system customized to your exact plan needs.

COMPLIANCE 101

1 Benefit plans covered by ERISA and/or the Public Health Service Act (PHSA) are legally required to comply with a host of specific requirements.
Responsibilities typically arise from the following regulations:
   » ERISA
   » COBRA
   » HIPAA
   » Medicare
   » Other federal mandates

2 As Plan Sponsors, private sector employers are considered “Plan Administrators.”
Plan Administrators are directly responsible for many compliance obligations and liability (both personal and corporate) for non-compliance.

3 Both Plan Sponsors and Plan Administrators are “Fiduciaries.”
Fiduciaries are held to a very high standard of behavior and can be personally liable to perform their duties in accordance with the governing laws and plan documents.

WHAT’S AT STAKE

Plan Administrator Liability
Typically, an employer that sponsors a group health plan is:

- Directly responsible for ensuring compliance obligations are met
- Liable for penalties if legal duties are not satisfied

DOL/IRS Audits
All benefit plans are subject to investigation by the DOL.

- DOL has the power to subpoena documents and witnesses
- Compliance procedures and documentation are key components of DOL investigations.

Benefits Liability
Compliance defects in documentation or eligibility can cause an employer to be liable for unintended benefits or benefits outside the plan terms that may not be covered by insurance.

Corporate Transaction Issues
Due diligence surrounding the sale/merger of a business unit often involves the inspection of legal compliance.

- Proper documentation and record keeping are inspected
- Deficiencies can impact the business transaction

Document Request Liability
Plan participants have the right to request and inspect plan documents. Statutory penalties and lawsuits may occur if employers are not prepared to respond to these inquiries.

VERIFICATION & FOLLOW-UP

Record tasks as you complete them, and upload your own documents as proof.

AUDIT TRAILS

Generate on-demand reports of your compliance progress for audit purposes.
