Take inventory

Do you know where your organization stands when it comes to the federal compliance regulations associated with your health plan? Before you begin to dedicate time and resources to your compliance efforts, it's important to determine the issues that may put your organization at higher risk for a lawsuit or audit. Compliancedashboard® Risk IQ is a great place to start.

Understand your liability

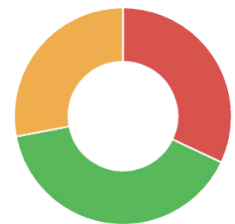

Compliancedashboard® Risk IQ is a web-based tool that guides you through a series of questions about your current compliance practices. The system is thorough, giving you a comprehensive overview of where your organization stands in various compliance categories.

When you're finished with the assessment, the system produces a detailed report that identifies the areas of highest risk, warns you of potential risks, and indicates areas of compliance success.
